

PINNACLE POINT INTRODUCES A HELI-GOLF EXPERIENCE

We've enjoyed the spectacular rush of being flown over Pinnacle Point in a helicopter, landing on the course itself, and the Pinnacle Point Group is now offering a heli-golf experience for golfers wanting that kind of extra excitement as part of playing the dramatic cliffside course. Seven golfers can fly with the pilot in an Agusta A-119 widebody chopper from Cape Town Airport to the Mossel Bay resort and back in the same day, playing 18 holes, for R31 000. Pay another R9 000, and you can stay the night and have a second round. The pilot Malcolm Brown, who gives a pre-round flyover of the course, will complete the second fourball. He can be contacted at malcolm@pinnaclepoint.co.za.
